

Pandemic - Driven International Deployments

Toronto EMS is Canada's largest EMS agency, providing all emergency and non-emergent transports for the regions 2.5 million.

With the deployment of FirstWatch in Toronto, officials have a new tool providing real-time information relating to Canada's largest EMS agency. Toronto's configuration of FirstWatch includes monitors for gastrointestinal, respiratory problems, sudden illness/death, neurological, chest pain and non-emergent "palliative" care transports of the sick throughout the community's elaborate health care system. These FirstWatch Triggers are designed to provide an early indicator for a community particularly sensitive after their experience with Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS).
